In regard to the improvement of the sewerage system he says: "The most serious defect in the present system of sewerage of Washington is the failure to discharge the sewage into deep water of the Potomac River. The remedy is found in the plan of the harbor commission, which, when perfected, will enable the discharge of all sewers into deep, running water on the Potomac front, and upon the Anacostia as far up as the Navy-Yard bridge.

"That defect of the present sewer system which has provoked most complaint is the want of capacity to discharge the ratiofalls of the violent storms which are of common eccurence in the District of Columbia. Casting a Huge Propeller at the Navy-Yard-A Rendezvous for Thieves Broken Up— Damages Asked for Spotling a Man's Business - Mr. Chris. Ruppert Not a Suicide-

Casting a Huge Propeller.

A large number of persons assembled at the Navy-Yard yesterday afternoon and witnesses the easting of a 23,000-pound propeller, to be used on the United States steamer. Tennessee There were two spacious platforms erected for a few minutes before one o'clock, there being 25,000 pounds of metal in the mixture of 88 parts of copper, 10 of tin, and 2 of sinc. Al 25,000 pounds of metal in the mixture of 88 parts of copper, 10 of tin, and 2 of sine. Al two o'clock the guests had assembled, and, the metal being ready for the molds, the casting took place under the supervision of Master Founder Geison. The whole operation, from the time the black was put on until the prepeller was cast, occupied one hour and a half.

The propeller weighs 23,000 pounds. Its hub measures twenty-nine incluses in length and thirty-tree inches in width, the pitch being twenty-eight and the diameter nineteen feet. It will remain in the mold until Saturday, who the work of demolishing the mold will commence. This propeller is the tenth one that has been cast at the navy-yard since August a year ago, under the supervision of Master Founder Gelson, and the fact that there has been no misian attests his skill. The process of casting is an exceedingly intresting one. Persons have been known to come from places as far as thanks, Brookiya, and Philadelphia to witness a casting. During the casting every man is full of line and hustle, and stands ready to execute an order as soon as given. The motal is drawn from the furnace in large tube and funnediately power into the mold. This operation requires considerable haste, as the slightest cooling of the metal would spoil the casting and the cathre work wanted have to be done over. Among those present even Chof-Engineer Moore, Captain Honston, of the ordinance department: Chef-Engineer Metartly, and Chief-Engineer Metartly, and Chief-Engineer Inch. seer McCarthy, and Chief-Engineer Inch.

defeated in their expectation, they now destrate heap ridicule where they haited in dishonoring me. I look upon this set a contemptible, dirty business, and, started as it has been by cuvions Germann, is mother proof of that unity and lowe of fair play which they ever claim, but never practice. I am determined to do my duty in this beach failure, and will not allow myself to be worried or annoyed. I think my life in this city is known well enough to give the lie to any absurd, sensational, tying rumor. There is nothing in life to damning as this aspection of personal character, and it seems to me that a newspaper ought to be well informed before giving it currency."

Breaking Up a Man's Business.

Mesers Bradley & Duvall, as attorneys for John H. Walloce, have entered suit against William and Margaret Kennedy, claiming 55,000 damages. The complainant sets forth 55,000 damages. The complainant sets forth that he was the tenant of Annie Smith, at No. #23 It street northwest, where he resided with his family and carried on the grocery business with a stock of morehandles valued at $500. By many months' diligence and the expendi-By many months' diligence and the expenditure of assing he had built up a trade valued at $3,600 per annum. The defeodants owned the land adjoining these premises, and on August 19,1678, by their agents, carelessly removed the ground adjoining the foundation of the house occupied by the plaintiff, so as to cause the west wall to fall away and parts of the front and rear walls and ceiling to be demolished. The stock of morehandles, shelving, and swings were crushed, damaged, and destroyed to the extent of $200, and household goods to the amount of $50. The tenement was rendered untenable, and the complainant required to waters for two months and give up house and business for that period, whereby he was injured in the sum of $3,000.

A Thieves' Retreat Discovered and Raided.
About eleven o'clock last night Lieutenaut
Austin, accompanied by Sergeanta Guy and Slattery and Officers Miller, Shilling, Daily, Hobbs, Auldridge, and Duvall, raided a hous on C street, between Thirteenth and Thirteen and-a-half streets northwest, kept by a woman named Lizzie Howard. The proprietross, to-gether with several female boarders and a gether with several female bearders and a number of ment, who gave their occupations as canal beatmen, were taken to the Pifth Pre-cinct Station and locked up for a hearing in Pulice Court to-day. This place has long been noted as a rendezvoas for theires and other disreputable characters, and the police author-lities are to be communded for their action in breaking it up. The young man, Counters, who was arrested on a charge of robbing his father several days ago, was found at this den by the officers when they wanted him.

To endeavor to describe in a short notice what can be seen at one of Mr. Hellor's enter tainments is useless. Every minute in the evening is filled up with something interesting, fascinating, or mystifying. The programme offered this week is entirely new, and comprises wonders never witnessed before in this city. In some instances his dislicit, or magic, or whatever it may be called, is so startling in its effects has to surprise even those having the utmost faith In Mr. Heller's ability. Among or whatever it may be called, as so starting in affects at the surprise even those having the utmost faith in Mr. Heller's ability. Among his most woulderful feats can be mentioned that of taking from a stovepipe hat, berrowed from a gentleman in the andience, a little girl at least ten years of age. He has also what he terms highinproved second sight, something which will upset all theories hitherto advanced regarding Miss Heller's performance. The great optical delusion, which he terms "living pictures," or a studio of odd character paintings, each in a frame, with a living face, which converses and sings, lie as mystifying as the second sight. This performance alone stamps Heller the greatest artist living. For the mathee and farewell Saturday night, "Ponch and Judy," that so delighted the audience last Saturday, will be substituted for the "Living Pictures." Friday night will be the opening of Kiralfy's "Trip to the Moon."

Theatre Comique.

The hill at the Comique this week is a model one. From beginning to end the performance is bright and sparkling, there being nothing dry or stale about it. Wheever wants to see a first-class variety performance should visit the Comique before the week closes.
